

Continuum

Recruiting in Today's Economy: Finding the Right People Without Breaking the Bank

Finding the right people for your organization is always a challenge. Classified advertisement can generate a large number of applicants, but how many with the specific qualities you want? This seminar will outline low or no cost recruiting methods, discuss how to spend recruiting dollars more wisely and build a network of people who can help you find quality people.

By attending this presentations supervisors will share and collect solutions to recruiting problems, look at the advantages and disadvantages of traditional recruiting methods and begin to create more focused recruiting strategies.

*What People Are Saying About Recruiting in Today's Economy...

"Very informative."

"It broadened my perspective on looking in other areas for employees."

"New ideas and information presented effectively."

"Very insightful."