Creating a Culture of Respect:

Preventing discrimination, sexual harassment and bullying

Professionalism is more than a job title or a wardrobe. It's a mindset — a way of thinking about self and others — that shapes one's approach to work and one's relationships with others. Professional workplace behaviors promote human dignity, respect and mutual support. This workshop will explore workplace communication and relationships and how these affect the creation of a positive culture free of bullying and harassing behaviors.

While the law regarding workplace harassment is a part of this presentation, the focus is on awareness, respect and creating positive corporate culture.

PRESENTER: GAIL SUTTER

Gail has over 25 years of experience in consulting and training with companies of five to five thousand employees. Her areas of expertise include leadership and team development, performance management, conflict management and workplace harassment.
