Alcohol & Drug Testing: Information for supervisors

Federal mandates, increased competition, and concerns for productivity and safety have motivated companies to implement alcohol and drug policies. Supervisors are an important part of any alcohol/drug policy being effective. Part of that success hinges on having good information.

Here is what you will learn:

- Alcohol/Drug education, including info on each of the drugs traditionally tested for.
- Signs and symptoms of alcohol/drug use in the workplace.
- What qualifies as reasonable suspicion.
- How to handle employee situations.
- Feedback as an intervention tool.
- How to make employee referrals for assistance and recovery.
