Speak with Confidence

EFFECTIVE PRESENTATION SKILLS

You can't avoid it — in today's working world you will be expected to stand (or sit) and present to an audience. Whether the audience is one or 20, specific speaking skills can help you hit a home run. And, good presentation skills can extend to hallway conversations, pitching an idea in a meeting, or engaging in conversation with your manager.

In this session, participants will focus on:

- Gathering, organizing and writing an informative presentation.
- Analyzing the audience and tailoring the presentation appropriately.
- Appearing confident and credible.
- Learning the best use of examples, stories and metaphors.
- Converting an informative presentation into a persuasive presentation.
