April 18TH, 2023

10:00 - 11:30 a.m. CT

PRESENTER:

JULIE HAMILTON

Julie Hamilton has over 20 years of Human Resource Management experience and has been a Certified Fibromyalgia Coach for over 7 years. Her goal is to help companies create an inclusive environment for the chronically ill and assisting them in implementing policies to benefit both the employee and the company. She understands what it takes to make it work and can educate supervisors and employees on how this collaboration can work.

CHRONIC ILLNESS AT WORK: HOW MANAGERS CAN SUPPORT EMPLOYEES

You know how important it is to have quality employees and how crucial retention is to your organization. But are you wondering how to make your chronically ill employee more productive? This scenario may have happened before your eyes – that star employee used to be very productive but recently was diagnosed with a medical issue. Maybe they have turned into that mediocre employee – or worse, a bad employee. If you want to learn how you can turn that employee back into a more productive employee, this training is for you.
